School Ballot Carries Two Propositions

The ballot for the school bond election on Sept. 6 will have two propositions, one for issuance of the bonds and the second for the adoption of Senate Bill 116.

Senate Bill 116 is a law that divorces the maintenance and debt service tax rates, and it may be adopted by a school district in which a majority of the voters casting ballots favor it. In explanation of its provisions, The Canyon News offers pertinent excerpts of the law and an explanation of its advantages which was prepared by First Southwest Company of Dallas. The law reads:

"1. In common and independent school districts, rural high school districts, and cities and towns constituting independent school districts, and in all other school districts for the further maintenance of public free schools, an annual ad valorem tax may be levied not to exceed, in districts having a bonded indebtedness of 7% or less, $1.50 on the $100 assessed value of taxable property in the District. For each 1%, or major fraction thereof, increase in bonded indebtedness beyond 7% of the assessed value of taxable property in such school district, the maximum maintenance rate shall be decreased by $0.10. The maximum maintenance rates which may be levied annually in any district shall conform to the following schedule:

"Bonded indebtedness in the amount of 7% or less of the assessed value of taxable property . . . $1.50.

"Bonded indebtedness in the amount of 8% of the assessed value of taxable property . . . $1.40.

"Bonded indebtedness in the amount of 9% of the assessed value of taxable property . . . $1.30.

"Bonded indebtedness in the amount of 10% of the assessed value of taxable property . . . $1.20.

"Provided, however, that such annual ad valorem tax levied may not exceed the maximum established by a majority vote of the resident qualified taxpaying voters of the District, voting in an election or elections held for such purpose.

"2. In common school and independent districts, rural high school district, and all other school districts, for the purchase, construction, repair or equipment of public free school buildings, and the purchase of necessary sites therefore, said District may issue bonds, and may levy ad valorem taxes in an amount sufficient to pay the interest on and principal of all bonds issued for such purpose, provided that bonds shall never be issued by any District in in an amount which would exceed 10% of the assessed value of taxable property in such school district, according to the then last completed and approved tax rolls of such district.

"3. It is the intention of the Legislature that the provisions of this act shall be cumulative of all other laws and it is further intended that the provisions hereof shall not apply to any District until such time as the provisions of this Act have been adopted by a majority vote of the qualified voters of such district who own property which has been duly rendered for taxation on the tax rolls of the county for that purpose."

In explanation of Senate Bill 116, First Southwest Company said:

"Any school district can, by a vote of its taxpayers, operate under the provisions of this law—which limits the local maintenance tax levy to a rate not to exceed $1.50, with a debt ration of 7% or less, and decreasing $0.10 each time the percentage of debt increases by 1%. However, under such tax, in addition to a maximum of $1.50 for local maintenance, the District would have an unrestricted tax levy for debt service—restricted only to the amount of tax levy necessary to service its debt.

"A. Purpose of the law:

"1. To divorce the maintenance and bond tax rates.

"2. To limit indebtedness to a maximum of 10% of assessed valuation.

"3. To limit the maintenance tax rate to a minimum of $1.50 if the debt does not exceed 7% of the assessed valuation, and making it mandatory that it graduate downward at any time the percentage of debt increased as much as 1%.

"B. Advantages:

"1. By adopting Senate Bill 116, a District may forever settle its maintenance tax rate maximum;

Finished Water System

The crowning piece of Canyon's new water system is the gleaming water tank on the Forrester land that makes the system operate automatically. In the foreground is a pop-off valve which keeps air pressure from building up too high inside the pipeline. The system was inspected by the city commission Saturday in preparation for acceptance from the contractor.

School Enrollment Starts Aug. 28; Classes Slated To Begin Sept. 2

Enrollment plans for Canyon High School were announced recently by J. E. Miller, principal.

The 1958-59 term will begin with registration of high school students at 10 a.m. at the high school building Aug. 28. Registration begins with the enrollment of seniors from 10 a.m. to 12 noon Aug. 28. Juniors will register from 1:30 to 4 p.m. that day. On Aug. 29, the sophomores will enroll from 9 a. m. until 12 noon, and freshmen will register from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

Each student will be expected to pay an activity fee of $1 at the time of registration, according to the announcement. This fee covers the cost of six assembly programs to be presented by the Southern School Assemblies of Dallas.

Outstanding accounts from the 1957-58 school term must be cleared before the student can register. Laboratory fees and shop fees will be paid during the first and second weeks of school.

Miller requested new students have their former school forward a transcript of their work to Canyon High School. The address is Canyon High School Principal's Office, Box 899, Canyon, Texas.

Classification of students is based on the number of credits completed prior to enrollment. Minimum number of credits to obtain classification is: Senior, 12; junior, 7½; sophomore, 3; freshman, less than 3. Seventeen credits are required for graduation, and no student will be permitted to participate in graduation ceremonies unless he has completed the required courses and has 17 or more credits.

Schedules are now being worked out on the basis of the pre-enrollment forms filled out by students last spring. Miller requested that any student who has changed his plans should contact the principal's office immediately.

Students who have moved into the school district recently and who will be in the ninth grade or above should come by the principal's office at 808 5th St. for a conference before school starts, if possible, Miller said.

Junior High school students will register from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Aug. 29. No alphabetical order will be followed in registration. An activity fee of $1.25 will be charged each student to pay for workbooks and other supplies. Junior high includes grades 6 through 8.

Grades 1 to 5 will register from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Aug. 29. Students whose last names begin with the letters "A" through "M" will register in the morning and those from "N" through "Z" will register in the afternoon.

Classes will begin Sept. 2, with Sept. 1 as a Labor Day holiday.

Deadline Nearing For Dairymen

Less than two weeks remain for Randall County dairy farmers to consult with a licensed veterinarian and select a plan to control and eradicate brucellosis under a law passed by the state legislature in 1955.

Under the law, all producers of Grade A milk had until Sept. 1, 1958, to consult with a licensed veterinarian, select either of two plans to control brucellosis in dairy cattle, and sign an agreement with the veterinarian. The State Health Department will enforce the law and, after Sept. 1, has the right to close the market to any dairyman not operating under a plan.

Five photographs involving the late Charles Goodnight, pioneer Panhandle cattleman, have been donated to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum by Mrs. Cleo Hubbard of Canyon, according to Boone McClure, director.

The photographs are prints of Goodnight and Mrs. Cornelia Adair, another early pioneer; Goodnight about the age of 70; Goodnight and Oliver Loving, for whom the Loving-Goodnight Cattle Trail was named; Goodnight around the age of 40; and the Goodnight home with buffalo grazing in the front yard.

Mrs. Hubbard also offered the loan of a pair of spurs custom made for Goodnight in Goodnight, Colo., in 1869. The loan will probably be accepted, McClure said.

ASC Office Taking Applications For 1959 Conservation Program

Applications are now being taken for the 1959 Conservation Reserve Program, according to Doyle G. Thomas, office manager of the Randall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Rates for the 1959 program, designed to secure more participation in low participation areas, such as Randall County, will vary among farms according to productivity and land value. Rates will be established by the county committee on the basis of yield and other information furnished by the farmer.

The county payment rate has not yet been announced, according to Thomas.

Deadline for making application for the rate is Sept. 26. After the county committee has set the rate, the farmer will have until Oct. 17 to file an application for 3 to 10 year contracts.

A farmer may decrease his rate if he desires. A farmer who accepts a decreased rate will receive priority over one who accepts the full rate.

The rates for 1959 will definitely be increased on a county basis, according to Thomas. Any farmer placing all of his land in the program will receive an additional 10 per cent.

Rates on old contracts will not be changed.

Under the program, there is a $5,000 limitation per person. No tenants may be displaced in order to place acreage in the reserve, but they may share in the contract.

Acreage placed in the program is to be planted to a permanent cover of grass as soon as possible and cannot be harvested or grazed during the life of the contracts. Farmers signing up will maintain their credit for allotment crops on the farm.

Increased rates were designed to bring county participation up to the 20 per cent desired participation. Current participation is 4.7 per cent of crop land in the program. Under the present program, the ASC has 84 contracts for a total of 16,104 acres. The amount to be paid under these contracts for 1958 is $144,256.

There will be no acreage reserve program for 1959, according to the ASC. This was the one year program where farmers could reduce their allotment crops and draw compensation accordingly.

Archivist Resigns Effective Sept. 1

Mrs. Ralph Harbin, archivist at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, has submitted her resignation, effective Sept. 1. Mrs. Harbin, who has been secretary-archivist for the museum for three years, plans to limit her activities to housekeeping for her husband, who is an instructor in agriculture at WT.

No immediate action has been taken to replace Mrs. Harbin.

Seining Procedure

Volunteers tended the 1200-foot seine at Buffalo Lake last weekend. Part went along in front of the seine keeping it on the bottom, others followed behind to keep the top above water and others pulled it in to shore.

School Board Adopts New Budget

A budget calling for expenditure of $500,278 for the fiscal year 1958-59 was adopted Tuesday night by the board of trustees for the Canyon Independent School District.

The budget for the coming year is $8,757 greater than last year's budget, with most of the increase coming from extra teachers added to the system during the summer. Largest item in the budget is instructional cost which includes teachers' salaries and instructional material. This amounts to an estimated $316,688 or 61% of the total budget.

Other estimated items of expense are: Pupil transportation, $42,150; operation of plant, $34,800; maintenance of plant, $8,000; fixed charges, $1,100; student body activities, $3,750; capital outlay, $10,700; debt service, $47,340; outgoing transfers, $5,500 and administrative cost of $28,750.

In other action, the board granted radio broadcasting rights to station KAMQ in Amarillo and the station plans to broadcast all 10 of the Canyon Eagle football games this fall.

The board also awarded contracts to the Borden Co. to furnish milk to the school cafeterias and Tendercrust Bread Co. to furnish bakery products.

An insurance program proposed by North American Accident Insurance Company, represented by A. L. Crossland, was adopted for the coming year. Under the plan, students may obtain an accident policy at a cost of $2 for the school term. Participation will be on a voluntary basis.

Up until the middle of Tuesday afternoon, with only hours of absentee balloting left, no ballots had been cast. At stake in the runoff election is the post of associate justice of the Supreme Court, Place 1. Candidates are Robert W. Hamilton of Midland County and J. Edwin Smith of Harris County.

Vacation Time Is for Us

(The following editorial is reprinted from the Ochiltree County Herald, and the words might easily fit us because we have taken a week to camp out and fish in Colorado. Editor)

A vacation means many things to many persons, and for those of us who haven't gone yet but who have listened to those who have returned, it may be confusing.

A vacation generally is overrated, a period in which people spend money they can't afford, to do things they would not be caught doing at home. It is time when people pay outrageous prices for accommodations they wouldn't take at home.

It is a period when the vacationer eats overcooked meals in cafes and undercooked meals outside. The later type meals are eaten with gusto while the same meal served in ones own back yard would be greeted with sneers of disdain.

Tourists on vacation wear clothes they wouldn't use in their fenced-in back yards, but wear everywhere while on the trip. Souvenirs are purchased which make friends wonder about the vacationer's sanity.

Hundreds of pictures are taken, and later friends are bored when they are shown.

Vacationers return home tired and broke to find the yard grown up with grass and weeds and it seems like years since the trip was started.

And usually no one but the next door neighbor even knows the vacationer has gone.

Amendment No. 3 & 4

The third amendment on the general ballot is a simple one. It makes a slight change in the wording of the section of the constitution involved, and that's all.

The portion being changed is the last part, which allows the commissioners court of counties to fill vacancies in the offices of county judge and justices of the peace. The present section lets the court fill the offices until the next general election for such offices, and the amendment would let them fill the offices until the next succeeding general election.

Under the present setup, if a county judge vacated his office in the first year of his four-year term, the appointed judge would finish the term out. If the amendment is passed, the appointed judge would serve only until the next general election.

The people would then elect a judge to serve the remaining two years of the original term. We'll vote for the amendment since it will cost nothing, and it will also give back to the people a little voice in their government.

The fourth amendment is another that has to do with elections. It would provide that if an office holder decides to run for a different office when he has more than one year to go on his present term he would have to resign. The amendment also provides for the manner in which such vacancies are to be filled.

Those who are affected by the amendment are all county officials and the district clerks and attorneys.

We'll go along with this amendment, too. We have never thought that it is cricket for an officeholder to run for a new office while keeping his old office. He can't lose that way.

Don't Forget

Next Saturday is your chance to register your approval or whatever of the Democratic candidate for the state supreme court, place 1.

That will be the only race on the ballot in Randall County, and the choice is between Robert W. Hamilton and J. Edwin Smith.

Don't forget to drop by the polls for a few minutes Saturday. It won't take long.

What Was He Doing?

And where was Lyndon Johnson when the Senate was passing the $1,300,000,000 aid-to-science-education bill? We expect he was handy to the floor of the Senate, but he didn't act as we thought he should have.

Senator William E. Jenner of Indiana led the way our senator should have gone. But Sen. Jenner had no followers.

We know where Senator Ralph Yarborough was, or at least where he would stand on the question of federal aid to education. (For all we actually know, Sen. Yarborough could have been in San Antonio plotting with Mrs. Frankie Randolph about the state Democratic convention instead of being in Washington.)

Sen. Jenner told the Senate: "We don't want federal help. We don't need federal help, and you can't afford to give federal help." And he asked the Senate to leave Indiana out of the provisions of the bill.

The Senate accepted his amendment by a voice vote, and if the House doesn't require that Indiana be put back into the bill, none of our tax money will go to Indiana for federal education aid.

But we wonder where Sen. Johnson was. He should have been there saying: "Let's leave Texas out, too, and while we're about it, let's just leave the whole thing alone."

From what we've heard of the Hale-Aikin study conducted in Texas last year, the people have said they want no part of federal aid to education.

Sen. Johnson is known as a great compromiser who is able to steer legislation through the Senate with ease. But we don't think he should make any compromise in this field. Let's keep the federal government from getting any further into education—and we'd like to kick it out of the area where it has already sneaked in.

7% More Security

We see where Congress will probably pass a bill increasing social security benefits by seven per cent. The bill has passed the House, and has passed the Senate Finance Committee.

The social security works is not solvent. Less money is taken in than is paid out, the excess is going to have to come from somewhere.

We believe that it is not the place of government to guarantee security to anyone, except maybe to prisoners in federal prisons. The bill will probably pass, however. It's election year, and a popular way to get votes is to give money away.

Area Woman Made THDA Officer

Mrs. Melton McGehee of Wayside, presently state Texas Home Demonstration Association treasurer, was elected state vice president last week as the group met for its annual convention in Austin.

Other new officers are Mrs. Wilmer Smith of Wilson, president; Mrs. Bill Tucker of Flatwood, secretary, and Mrs. George Hackney Jr. of Greenville, treasurer.

Mrs. Mona K. Hildreth, county home demonstration agent, participated in a panel discussion, headed by Mrs. McGehee, on the levels of Extension Service. Besides Mrs. Hildreth, other Randall County residents attending were Mrs. Dick Barrett, Mrs. Marion Williams, and Mrs. R. A. Hodges.

One sight I wanted to see in New York City was the monument in honor of the man for whom Fort Worth was named.

But the guide-book made no mention of this nor did the conductor on the sight-seeing bus. And since my time was limited and New York is a pretty good-sized place in which to conduct a search, I reluctantly marked that item off my agenda.

On Memorial Day morning, I walked along Fifth Avenue. The street — ordinarily choked with crowds and traffic — was now, because of the holiday, strangely silent and deserted. It made one feel like an explorer who, in the middle of a jungle, comes upon the palaces of a deserted city.

In Madison Square, I saw the statue of Farragut ("Damn the torpedoes"); was surprised to learn from the inscription that the great Union admiral was born near Nashville, Tenn. The monument bore a large wreath inscribed "Grand Army of the Republic." Then I came to the statue of William Seward, secretary of state in Lincoln's cabinet; then the lordly figure of Roscoe Conkling, who made a magnificent speech, placing the name of Grant before the Republican Convention in an effort to gain him a third term nomination. Next I came to the World War veterans' monument, adorned with garlands placed there by the American Legion.

And then I happened to glance across to a little park that was a triangle where three streets met and a word smote my sight: "Perote". It was at the top of a tall monument. Below that word were others: "Puebla", "Cerro Gordo", "Chapultepec."

I thought, "Here in New York, I find a monument to the War with Mexico—something that so far as I know, not even Texas has!"

Hurrying over, I found on the next side of the memorial, these words: "Under this monument lies the body of William Jenkins Worth born in Hudson, N. Y., March 7, 1794, died in Texas, May 7, 1849."

Chiseled into the column were single words, each with significance in the career of this military figure, who served in the War of 1812, in Indian Wars, (he subdued the Seminoles of Florida, who had seemed unconquerable), and in the War with Mexico — each word standing for a chapter in his truly remarkable career: "Contrera", "Churubusco", "West Point", "Molindo del Rey", "Monterey", "San Antonio," "City of Mexico."

And so on Memorial Day, one Texan stood with uncovered head at the grave of the man for whom Fort Worth is named.

Nancy Ezzell in the Canadian Record: As this column is being written, some 10 days before actual publication date, the Ezzell family is anticipating a long week-end in Colorado. It will be a short vacation but a full one and on our return we will probably feel like the woman quoted in the latest issue of Presbyterian Life magazine: "We didn't do too much during our vacation with our six children," admits Mrs. Hazel Taylor. "But when you've got that many, it doesn't take much to make you think you've done too much."

Ernest Joiner in the Ralls Banner: An alert New Mexico legislator has suggested New Mexico annex eight West Texas counties. At first shock it seems a ridiculous suggestion. On sober reflection, we think it a fine idea, and we have reasons. First, we'd like to farm out the people in these counties to New Mexico so they can get a taste of what it means to live in a state where a Fair Trade Law is in effect. They can find first and how it feels to pay from 25 per cent to 50 per cent more for manufactured goods than they now pay in Texas. Let'em buy themselves a bottle of Old Charter for $7.95 ($5.95 in Amarillo). Let'em pay 39.9 cents for a gallon of gasoline, $10 to $15 a night in some crumby motel or hotel, and so on right down to the actual necessities of life. Then let them enjoy the luxury of paying a 2 per cent state sales tax on top of all of this, so that all that they have left jingling in the jeans is a cupful of pennies without which no transaction can be completed. And let them figure out how wonderfully relaxing it is to pay a state income tax on top of a million other taxes at the end of each year. Let them become acquainted with an estimated 125,000 New Mexicans whose only means of getting by is their refusal to file their state income tax return each year. Give them practical experience in the fine art of having the federal government $2 for every $3 spent in New Mexico. Give them a chance to pay 10 cents for a five cent coke with four cents deposit on the bottle. Then, after this economi and spiritual uplift, admit them back to Texas so they can tell us all how badly we need a state sales tax, a state income tax, and that great institution that is breaking the backs of low-income people, the Fair Trade Law.

We have never really seen our home until now, as we share its magic with a toddler. From the knee-high view of our 18-month-old grandson, its wonders are rich and stirring.

Take the step down from dining room to terrace: We've always considered this a builder's mistake, because it has tripped so many guests. But the metal-stripped doorsill and slanted brick step are now great adventure- Little Mister, who trundles uncertainly through the house at a 45-degree angle, never tires of this mock obstruction.

"Hold on! Step over! Step down carefully! Now!" we warn. With a look of delighted triumph, he reaches the first surface of the porch, examines the croquet stand for the hundredth time before making the return ascent. And if the warning voice forgets to give the background sound effect, he croons it softly, in imitative rhythm.

The low window sill in the living room is a bench for a miniature judge. Overstuffed chair and sofa are mountains to climb. The chandelier, viewed upside down, is Aladdin's lamp. The air conditioner is an ocean breeze: "Cool! Cool!" he coos.

The mysteries of the yard are as great. Unnoticed slopes in the lawn and sidewalk come alive under his experimental feet. A vine tendril on the porch screen, bright pink petunias, swaying nandena leaves, a crabapple on the ground, a bird's song, a butterfly, a blade of grass — Nature is a teacher who understands baby minds.

With so many discoveries each new day, what a glorious place a home becomes!

Nuptial Plans For Dorothy Neblett, Kemper Perkins Revealed By Tea

A tea from 3 to 5:30 p. m. Friday announced the engagement of Dorothy Neblett, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander Neblett, and Clay Kemper Perkins of Austin, son of Mrs. H. Clay Perkins of Austin. The tea was held in the Neblett home, 1100 Fifth Avenue.

Nuptial vows for Miss Neblett and Perkins will be read Sept. 20 in the First Presbyterian Church, Canyon, by the Rev. T. Winston Wilbanks, director of religious education at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Amarillo.

Laid with a cutwork and lace cloth, the serving table was centered with a large antique alabaster figurine of cupid holding an arrangement of Talisman roses and lilies-of-the-valley and a white satin banner revealing the wedding date and names. Smaller figurines flanked the central arrangement and held bronze tapers. A hand painted punch bowl and silver trays completed the setting.

Pouring were Mrs. Dan Sanders, Mrs. O. Dale Smith of Amarillo, and Mrs. Charles R. Nester. Snowballs, punch and nuts were served.

At the piano were Mrs. Mitchell Rankin, Mrs. J. D. Barker and Mrs. Gerald Dietz. Presiding at the guest book were Mrs. Ed Harrell, Katie Surratt of Panhandle and Nancy Bivins of Amarillo.

Assisting in the house party were Mrs. Ray Campbell, Mrs. J. J. Walker, Mrs. Irving SoRelle, Mrs. Cecil Simms, Mrs. W. O. Black, Mrs. Walter Graham, Mrs. Felix Pierce and Mrs. Ples Harper.

A bouquet of pink carnations accented with large butterflies was used in the living room, and a bouquet of fall flowers was used on the porch.

Nuptial Vows Solemnized Friday In Hale Center For Evans, Blair

Nuptial vows were solemnized at 8 p. m. Friday for Bonnie Ann Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monty Staniforth of Hale Center, and Donald Ray Blair, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Blair of Canyon, in the home of the bride's parents.

Rev. R. T. Dyess, pastor of the Hale Center Methodist Church, read the double ring ceremony before a fireplace decorated with bronze chrysanthemums and white tapers, reflected in a huge mirror above the fireplace.

Mrs. James Dollar of Hale Center, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Patsy Bearden, soloist, as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "My Wonderful One."

Patsy Painter of Lubbock was maid of honor, and Sue Evans, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Parker Blair of El Paso, brother of the groom, was best man, and Charles Denney of Littlefield was groomsman.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Bill Evans. She was attired in a floor length gown of peau de soie, featuring a tucked bodice with a modified V neckline and long sleeves that came to a point over the hands. The bouffant skirt was embroidered and appliqued with iridescent sequins and seed pearls and tulle fans.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown coming to a point on the forehead and decorated with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

A graduate of Hale Center High School, the bride attended West Texas State College for two years. The groom, a junior at WT, will continue his studies there this fall. The couple will make their home at 2418 Fifth Avenue.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

A few timely suggestions for the conservation of our land.

Build terraces on sloping land where needed. These terraces will hold the water on the land and stop the washing away of the top soil. By keeping the water where it falls, you will increase your profits.

If your land has been washing and has small or large gullies on it, you may be able to save it by building a diversion terrace. A diversion terrace will carry off the excess water and release it on a grass water way or pasture where it will spread without causing erosion.

You can also protect your cultivated land by stubble mulching or crop residue utilization. This means keeping the stubble on or near the surface of the soil. The stubble will help hold the rain water and will also break the force of the falling rain drops.

If you have a pasture that is over grazed and has a poor stand of grass, you may want to rent the Randall-Potter SCD grass drills and overseed part or all of it. Overseeding pastures and deferring them will help nature restore it quicker to good condition.

The Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District will be glad to help you plan your farm, lay out necessary terraces, diversions, waterways, or help with reseeding the pastures.

If you are interested in improving and saving your soil contact the Randall-Potter SCD Supervisor in your area or the Soil Conservation Service on the third floor in the Randall County courthouse.

SJR #3—Number Nine on the Ballot.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 4, 1958.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 3 proposing an amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 5, to provide that the Legislature may authorize the creation of a Hospital District coextensive with the incorporated limits of the City of Amarillo, Texas; authorizing the County of Potter to render financial aid to and participate in the operation of such Hospital District; authorizing the Commissioners Court of said county to assess and levy taxes on property outside the incorporated limits of such city; further authorizing a countywide Hospital District for Wichita County, Texas, and authorizing the creation of two districts in Jefferson County; and further providing that any enabling Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas be, and the same is hereby amended by adding thereto another section to be designated as Section 5, which shall read as follows:

"Section 5 (a) The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of two hospital districts, one to be coextensive with and have the same boundaries as the incorporated City of Amarillo, as such boundaries now exist or as they may hereafter be lawfully extended, and the other to be coextensive with Wichita County.

"If such district or districts are created, they may be authorized to levy a tax not to exceed Seventy-five Cents (75¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation of taxable property within the district; provided, however, no tax may be levied until approved by a majority vote of the participating resident qualified property taxpaying voters who have duly rendered their property for taxation. The maximum rate of tax may be changed at subsequent elections so long as obligations are not impaired, and not to exceed the maximum limit of Seventy-five Cents (75¢) per One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation, and no election shall be required by subsequent changes in the boundaries of the City of Amarillo.

"If such tax is authorized, no political subdivision or municipality within or having the same boundaries as the district may levy a tax for medical or hospital care for needy individuals, nor shall they maintain or erect hospital facilities, but the district shall by resolution assume all such responsibilities and shall assume all of the liabilities and obligations (including bonds and warrants) of such subdivisions or municipalities or both. The maximum tax rate submitted shall be sufficient to discharge such obligations, liabilities, and responsibilities, and to maintain and operate the hospital system, and the Legislature may authorize the district to issue tax bonds for the purpose of the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of improvements and initially equipping the same, and such bonds shall be payable from said Seventy-five Cents (75¢) tax. The Legislature shall provide for transfer of title to properties to the district.

"(b) The Legislature may by law permit the County of Potter (in which the City of Amarillo is partially located) to render financial aid to that district by paying a part of the expenses of operating and maintaining the system and paying a part of the debts of the district (whether assumed or created by the district) and may authorize the levy of a tax not to exceed Ten Cents (10¢) per One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation (in addition to other taxes permitted by this Constitution) upon all property within the county but without the City of Amarillo at the time such levy is made for such purposes. If such tax is authorized, the district shall by resolution assume the responsibilities, obligations, and liabilities of the county in the manner and to the extent hereinabove provided for political subdivisions having boundaries coextensive with the district, and the county shall not thereafter levy taxes (other than herein provided) for hospital purposes nor for providing hospital care for needy individuals of the county.

"(c) The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a hospital district within Jefferson County, the boundaries of which shall include only the area comprising the Jefferson County Drainage District No. 7 and the Port Arthur Independent School District, as such boundaries existed on the first day of January, 1957, with the power to issue bonds for the sole purpose of purchasing a site for, and the construction and initial equipping of, a hospital system, and with the power to levy a tax of not to exceed Seventy-five Cents (75¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation of property therein for the purpose of paying the principal and interest on such bonds.

"The creation of such hospital district shall not be final until approved at an election by a majority of the resident property taxpaying voters voting at said election who have duly rendered their property for taxation upon the tax rolls of either said Drainage or said School District, nor shall such bonds be issued or such tax be levied until so approved by such voters.

"The district shall not have the power to levy any tax for maintenance or operation of the hospital or facilities, but shall contract with other political subdivisions of the state or private individuals, associations, or corporations for such purposes.

"If the district hereinabove authorized is finally created, no other hospital district may be created embracing any part of the territory within its boundaries, but the Legislature by law may authorize the creation of a hospital district incorporating therein the remainder of Jefferson County, having the powers and duties and with the limitations presently provided by Article IX, Section 4, of the Constitution of Texas, except that such district shall be confirmed at an election wherein the resident qualified property taxpaying voters who have duly rendered their property within such proposed district for taxation on the county rolls, shall be authorized to vote. A majority of those participating in the election voting in favor of the district shall be necessary for its confirmation and for bonds to be issued.

"(d) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character."

Senate Bill 116

"2. By adoption of same, it should seldom, if at any time, be necessary to raise assessed valuations, or the percentage of actual value at which property is assessed.

"3. By adoption of same, a District may use more discretion, as and when values become lower under average market conditions, to decrease assessed valuations and adjust the tax levy, to properly and efficiently operate the school system, resulting in more satisfied taxpayers.

"4. By adoption of same, present and future bonds of the District would be unrestricted as to tax levy—limited only to the levy necessary annually to pay maturing principal and interest and create legal reserves in the Interest and Sinking Fund, which would:

"a. Allow the District to sell its bonds at a lower rate of interest, consistent with market conditions.

"b. Allow the District to materially shorten its principal maturities, and by paying its principal sooner, save greatly on the gross amount of interest paid out of any bond issue.

"C. Maintenance Tax Levy:

"1. If Senate Bill 116 is adopted, the maintenance tax rate maximum must be voted. If Senate Bill 116 is not adopted, the district can, under the statutes, vote only a maximum maintenance tax rate of $1.50, of which not more than 0.50 can be used for debt service. If the entire $0.50 is then used for debt service, the remaining $1.00 maximum for maintenance fund may at some time be insufficient to operate the school system, especially if the assessed values should become lower, and thus either assessed values would have to be raised or an election held to increase the maximum levy—by then adopting Senate Bill 116.

"2. Adoption of Senate Bill 116, in full, which would limit the maintenance tax rate to a maximum of $1.50, with such rate automatically becoming lower as the percentage of debt increases is considered to be highly advantageous to the District due to the following:

"a. A District can only make a maintenance tax rate levy sufficient to meet its current budget. No greater amount of surplus can be created.

"b. The fact that the District has a higher maximum allowable rate does not automatically allow the School Board to arbitrarily raise the maintenance tax rate. Many school districts and cities have much higher permissable tax levies than they ever levy.

"c. School Board members are always property taxpayers, and it is believed such members will impose annually only such rate of tax as is essential to provide for the operating needs of the school for the particular year."

The Canyon district's present percentage of debt to assessed valuations (based on the 1957 tax roll) is 3.77 per cent. The 1957 tax roll was $17,049,350 and the district owes $643,200.

The bonds presently outstanding will be paid off in the fiscal year 1975, and the total annual requirements of those bonds runs between $43,300 and $49,575.

Mrs. C. Boone McClure visited in Shamrock recently to pick up Cheryl Ann McClure, who has been visiting relatives.

Yard Hobby Has Fishing Worms, But Where Are the Fishing Poles?

John L. Williams, 2007 First Avenue, has plenty of fishing worms, but he is not interested in fishing. Raising worms, not fishing, is his hobby.

Last November Williams ordered 2,000 Red Gold hybrid worms and placed them in beds in his back yard. Estimates of the worm population now run over 50,000, proof that not many find their way to a fishing hook.

But now Mr. and Mrs. Williams have a problem: They have raised so many worms that there is no more room in the four specially constructed beds in the backyard. Williams is now offering to sell mature worms at the wholesale price he paid for the original stock, one cent each. He had not planned to start selling worms wholesale until he retired from his job as a janitor at West Texas State College, but, after all, when there's not any more room . . .

Mrs. Williams cares for the worms whlie he is working. Worms, she says, are sensitive to hot weather. They can, and will, burrow into the ground to escape cold, but they will die from heat unless the ground is moist.

Three or four times daily, Mrs. Williams sprinkles the compost beds. This is more effective than soaking the beds, which makes the beds too wet and tight.

The beds consist of porous sandy loam that drains easily, dry manure that has finished decaying and straw to cover the beds and hold the moisture. Williams has two long beds and two short beds and plans to build one that will give the worms more protection this winter.

In late afternoon the worms look like red wine splashed with red gold, showing how the breed got its name. Although there are several thousand breeds, Williams is raising only the one, a short chubby species.

From B-B size football shaped eggs, 4 to 20 worms hatch at a time. The worms are fed one gallon of starter chicken mash every other day. The result: What is known in worm-breeding circles as "fat worms."

Mrs. Williams, who wouldn't even look at the worms when they arrived, now says, "We babied these worms like they were human babies. We've enjoyed this without too much work."

Well, everybody knows you don't use babies for fishing, even worms.

Sunbeams Feted In Special Week

In celebrating Sunbeam Focus Week, Aug. 10-16, the Sunbeam Missionary Band of the First Baptist Church sponsored a recognition service of their Sunbeam committee Aug. 10, a costume party and a floral decoration of the church sanctuary.

Highlight of the Tuesday afternoon costume party for children was a real Christmas tree. Special guests were Sunbeams of the Tierra Blanca Association.

As the children arrived, they were shown to age group rooms by the Woman's Missionary Union circle chairman. The youngsters traveled by groups to an imaginary airport where they purchased their tickets for a tour of Japan, Brazil, Iceland, Hawaii and Mexico by placing a gift under the Christmas tree. Gifts were given to a home missionary to use for the children of his congregation.

The children saw a film, "Let's Take a Trip" and toured the different countries, pausing for refreshments. Mrs. R. B. Allen and Mrs. Claude Moore poured, with several women of the WMU assisting in the serving.

A short program, consisting of a sing-song, a nursery rhyme missionary program by the Happy Sunbeam Band, and the Christmas Story, told by Mrs. Bill Knighton closed the activities.

The Sunbeam Band is an auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Union and has been in existence for over 100 years. There are 17,633 Sunbeam Bands in the Southern Baptist Convention with a membership of over 231,000 from infants through eight years of age.

The local Sunbeam committee is composed of Mrs. Gene Morrison, director; Jessie Wilkins, Mrs. Bill Wilson, Mrs. Laveral Thompson, Mrs. Bill Knighton, Mrs. Cristler Crain, Mrs. Dale Prather and Mrs. Marvin McBroom, leaders; Marva McBroom and Judy Wilson, helpers; Mrs. R. A. Smith, WMU president; Mrs. Gordon Williams, Mrs. S. S. Howell, Mrs. Fred Standley, Mrs. William B. Davis and Mrs. T. T. Fain, WMU Sunbeam representatives.

USDA Reveals Discount Types

COLLEGE STATION—The U. S. Department of Agriculture has named wheat varieties which are undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities and will be discounted 20 cents a bushel in price support rates on the 1959 crop.

Discounts to discourage plantings of the undesirable wheat varieties were included in the price-support program for the first time in 1956.

Also listed in the soft red winter class is Kan Queen, Kawvale, Nured and Seabreeze. Durum varieties listed are Golden Ball, Peliss and Pentad.

Hodges points out that the list was developed by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service after consultation with state agricultural experiment statoin personnel, agronomists, cereal chemists and others. Representatives of crop improvement associations support the program which is aimed at improving the overall quality of U. S. wheat production.

Application of the 20-cents-per-bushel discount to producer support rates will be the same as under the 1958 operation. Because wheat varieties are difficult to determine from threshed samples, identification of the variety going under price support will be the responsibility of the producer based on his knowledge of the varieties he seeded and harvested.

Even though some of the undesirable varieties might have protein content high enough for a premium, no protein premiums will apply to the undesirable varieties when loan rates are determined, said Hodges.

Tolliver To Attend Meeting in Mexico

Dr. Crannell Tolliver, head of the speech department at West Texas State College, will attend a five-day meeting in Mexico City of the International Society for General Semantics.

Dr. and Mrs. Tolliver, accompanied by their son, Brian, and Marcia Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barker of Canyon, will drive to Houston and then fly to Mexico City.

The society is an organization concerned with the role of language and other symbols of human behavior and human affairs. Among speakers are Dr. Russell Meyers, chairman of the division of neurosurgery at the University of Iowa Medical School, Dr. John Elmendorf, dean of Mexico City College, and S. I. Hayakawa, author of such books as "Language in Thought and Action" and "Language, Meaning and Maturity."

During the conference there will be arranged tours of Mexico City and such nearby points of interest as Taxca, Quernavaca, and Xochmilco. Following the meeting, Dr. and Mrs. Tolliver will spend several days in Acapulco, returning to Canyon about Sept. 5.

Geography Tour Completes Trip

The West Texas State College geography field tour has completed its tour of the Northwestern United States.

The annual summer tour, which carries six semester hours of credit at WT, was made by 39 persons, including Dr. M. B. Measamer, head of the geography department and director of the tour.

The final lap of the tour was a visit to Salt Lake City, Royal Gorge, Colo., and Clayton, N. M.

In Salt Lake City, the group took a Gray Line Sight Seeing tour, visiting the state capital with its many exhibits, murals and Gold Room; Brigham Young's home, monument and burial ground; the Beehive House; Lions House; Eagle Gate; the campus of University of Utah; and the new "This Is The Place" Monument. The group attended a choir rehearsal, a noon organ recital and an evening concert at the Mormon Tabernacle. A walking lecture tour of Temple Square concluded this part of the agenda.

The students also visited the copper mines in Brigham and the Great Salt Lake, where they went swimming.

Royal Gorge was the next stop and provided an "open air lecture" by Dr. Measamer on various rock formations and specimens.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Big Government

There have been complaints for many years about the government in Washington getting too big. Last week, the Congress had a good taste of what happens to the individual when government becomes too centralized and too concentrated. The House, in effect, denied to an individual, from whom the government had taken real property under condemnation proceedings, the right to recover that property for the same price which he received from the government, even though the government did not use the property for public purposes.

As an isolated transaction, this did not register too deeply with many people, but it could have the most serious repercussions if such a policy is continuously followed in the future as it has been in the past few years.

The government has the right, regardless of the Constitution or statutory law, to take your property for public purposes. This right on the part of the government only to those cases where the property is needed for public use and where the owner receives just compensation.

The particular matter before the House of Representatives last week concerned an airport site which was selected by the Department of Commerce. A number of the landowners, mostly families holding only a few acres, were called upon to get off the land because the government needed it for a public purpose, to wit, an airport.

Some 60-odd landowners, reconciled to the fact that they had no defense against such a proceeding, settled with the government and moved off the land, giving up their homes which had been occupied by some of them for many, many years. This was in the early 1950's.

The government acquired only a part of the land included in the original project, because it was soon determined that someone had made a mistake and that the chosen site would not be satisfactory.

The government, however, continued to hold the several parcels of land it had acquired for some seven years, although some of the former owners had tried to get it back. This land was finally declared surplus by the government and turned over to another agency to be sold to the highest bidder.

The former owners came in and asked that they be allowed to repurchase the land at the price which had been forced upon them when they were forced to sell the land and move off. The government agency simply told them that they would not consider the matter, but that the land had to be appraised and sold at whatever its value might be at the present time, either by negotiated sale or by a public auction.

This government agency would have carried out its threat had not a bill been introduced that stopped them from doing this. This action, however, only served to delay the matter for a few months.

The bill was up for debate last week, and the House amended it so that the government agency is required to sell the land at present prevailing prices. The former owners, although having first opportunity to buy, are denied the right to repurchase at the price they received.

The government, in effect, has said to these people, who are kicked off their land involuntarily, that even though the government does not use the land for public purposes, the individual is nothing more than a cog in the wheel of the state; that compassion or emotion has no place in the operation of a government, and that the rights of individuals have become absorbed in satisfying the whims and demands of big government advocates and bureaucrats.

The fact that the man who lost the land had to pay income taxes on what he received from the federal government is not taken into consideration. The fact that it costs a man quite a bit of money to move is not taken into consideration. The fact that money is required to re-establish a home in a strange locality is not taken into consideration.

The relationship between the individual and the land upon which he was raised and which was, perhaps, owned by his family before him for many generations, is cast aside and not taken into consideration. The memories of a mother of the family that she raised on a small plot of land, and the emotional feeling which she must have, are held for nought.

It was argued on the Floor of the House in the debate that human beings, who are Members of Congress, cannot and must not yield in the least to the compassion they might feel for some person under these circumstances.

In other words, we, as Members of Congress, must yield to big government—big government that takes over and destroys the rights of the individual; that places the state above the man of which it is made, and adopt the philosophy that the state is all powerful and is not the creature of man, but that man is the creature and the servant of the state, and that Members of the Congress must incrust themselves in a case-hardened coat through which the normal emotions of man must not be allowed to penetrate.

This may be the philosophy of some, and God forbid it may become the philosophy of this country, for as for me, I shall never subscribe to it. When the time comes in this country that we are willing to deny the individual his inherent rights on the basis of fair play and honesty, the dignity of man will be lost as will the concepts of the government which was entrusted to us by our forebearers.

You can boost yields 5 bushels per acre— with a McCormick® Model M

Grain Drill

Three-year tests at a midwestern agricultural college compared broadcast seeding at the rate of 4 bushels an acre with drilling at the rate of 3 bushels per acre. Results: Average yield of drilled seed was 5.3 bushels per acre more than broadcast seeding!

Here are three reasons why you can get better stands and bigger yields with a McCormick drill: 1. Each of the feeds measures out exactly the same amount of seed; 2. You can regulate the seeding rate within ounces; 3. You can control seeding depth within a fraction of an inch.

We would like to tell you more about the drill and broadcast seeder comparison—and McCormick drills. Stop in when you're in town.
